Declarative pipelines

As the name suggests, a declarative pipeline follows a declarative programming model. Declarative pipelines are written in a domain-specific language in Jenkins that is clear and easy to understand.

pipeline { agent any stages { stage('SCA') { steps {
                //
            }
        }
    }
}
```
