

Market options

There is a wide list of tablets that caters to every user. Here are some of the budget-friendly options that can help you decide which one works for you. Cost may vary on different e-commerce websites.

Apple iPad (6th generation): This has a 24.64cm (9.7-inch) display size, and display colours can be changed to enhance visibility. Weighing 478 grams and with a thickness of 7.5mm, it is a portable but durable device. It supports ten hours of battery life on a single charge, and comes with touch ID for secure authentication.

₹ 23,999

Storage capacity is 32GB, and Wi-Fi (802.11ac) speeds are up to 866Mbps to ensure smooth connectivity. Besides an onscreen keyboard and multi-touch gesture support, it is also compatible with Apple Pencil and Bluetooth keyboards.

Along with 8MP rear camera and 1.2MP HD front camera with HDR, it supports up to 1080p HD video quality. It also has several useful built-in apps and assistive features. It is good for multitasking, and is priced at ₹ 23,999.

Samsung Galaxy Tab A: With a 25.65cm (10.1-inch) touchscreen and 8mm width, it supports 1920x1200 pixels resolution. The device runs on Android v9.0 (Pie) OS, and is powered by 1.8GHz+1.6GHz Exynos 7904 octa-core processor. It has a metallic body and weighs 469 grams.

Battery capacity is 6000mAh. With Wi-Fi and Bluetooth connectivity, it makes multitasking faster. It has 2GB

₹ 14,999

RAM along with 32GB (expandable) internal memory. It also has 8MP primary camera and 5MP front camera. Other features include parental control for security and dual stereo speakers with Dolby 3D Atmos surround sound. It is available for ₹ 14,999.

Lenovo M10: It has a 25.65cm (10.1-inch) FHD multi-touch screen with 1920x1200 pixels resolution. It weighs 480 grams and has a thickness of 8mm. Android v8.0 Oreo OS is upgradable to v8.1. The tablet is powered by 1.8GHz Qualcomm Snapdragon 450 octa-core processor, paired with 3GB RAM and 32GB (expandable) internal memory. It has both 4G and Wi-Fi connectivity. 4850mAh lithium-ion battery provides talk time of up to eight hours.

₹ 16,990

The device comes with 5MP primary camera and 2MP front camera. Other features include single SIM, optional kid's pack, dual front-facing speakers with Dolby Atmos and shock-resistant bumper for safety. It is good for multimedia entertainment, and can be bought for ₹ 16,990.

Honor Pad 5: The FHD multi-touch screen has a size of 20.32cm (8-inch) with a resolution of 1920x1200 pixels. Its metallic body weighs 460 grams and is 7.8mm thick. It runs on Android 9.0 (Pie) OS and is powered by Kirin 710 octa-core processor.

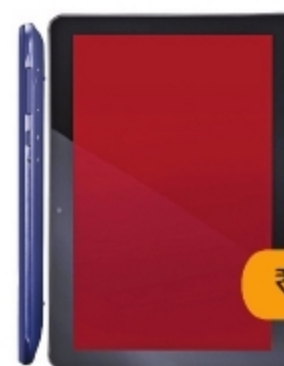

Along with 3GB RAM storage, it has 32GB (expandable) internal storage. It comes with 5100mAh lithium-polymer battery. It offers both Wi-Fi and 4G connectivity.

₹ 15,499

The primary camera has a resolution of 8MP, while the front camera has 2MP. The tablet comes with parental control and face unlock for security. Other features include single SIM, dual stereo speakers with Dolby Atmos sound, GPU Turbo 2.0 for graphics and others. It is available for ₹ 15,499.

iBall Nova: It has a 25.65cm (10.1-inch) HD display with a screen resolution of 1280x800 pixels. It weighs 617 grams and has a thickness of 1.2cm. It runs on Android 8.1 Oreo OS, and is powered by a 1.3GHz quad-core processor. Besides 2GB RAM, it has 16GB (expandable) internal storage. It features both Wi-Fi and 4G connectivity.

₹ 13,999

The lithium-polymer battery capacity is 7000mAh, which provides a talk time of around thirty hours. Other features include dual SIM, micro SD slot, accelerometer, etc. It comes with 5MP rear camera and 2MP front camera. It is priced at ₹ 13,999. END 🐧

By: Ayushee Sharma

The author is a technology journalist at EFY.

The article was originally published in the October 2019 issue of Electronics For You.