'Portronics' new projector is as small as your palm

Portronics has launched a palm-sized projector, extending its line of portable devices. The POR 318 projector comes with DLP technology, which is known to be the most sophisticated light technology, along with a rectangular array of up to 8.8 million hinge-mounted microscopic mirrors and a sleek design.

The projector comes with three ports which enable the display of videos and pictures via the laptop, PCs and SD cards with MP3, WMA and W4A audio file formats. It can also be connected to the set-top box via the AVI cable bundled with the projector.

The POR 318 is equipped with MHL compliant technology, which allows it to project the Android phone screen onto the wall. The device comes with a 1700mAh battery which can work for more than two-and-a-half hours. It comes with two inbuilt speakers and an auxiliary output for connecting external speakers.

The POR 318 has a charging adapter, telescopic tripod, AV cable, car charger and a manual. It is available via ebay.in.
