Samsung Galaxy Note Edge – a smartphone with a side display

Samsung has released a new, high-end smartphone – the Samsung Galaxy Note Edge—in India, which is priced at Rs 64,900. It is available in charcoal black and frost white. The South Korean consumer electronics giant has released the smartphone as a ‘limited edition’ and hence will be selling only one million units across the globe. The Samsung Galaxy Note Edge comes with a flexible display technology, wherein the right edges of the smartphone extend until it reaches across the back. In this model, the side display has been developed, which allows users to see information like the temperature and time from the side of the device, when it is kept on the table.

The camera is more like a standalone, point-and-shoot camera, as the camera operating buttons like the shutter button and other functions are placed on top, when the device is held horizontally. The key specs of the Samsung Galaxy Note Edge smartphone include 14.22 cm (5.6 inch) quad-HD+ (1440+ 160x2560 pixel) super AMOLED display, quad-core 2.7GHz Snapdragon 805 processor, adreno 420 GPU, 3GB of RAM, 64GB built-in storage variant, 3000mAh battery, dimensions of 151.3 x 82.4 x 8.3 mm, weighing 174 grams, 16MP auto-focus rear camera with smart OIS, 3.7MP front-facing camera, Wi-Fi 802.11 a/b/g/n/ac, GPS/ Glonass, NFC, Bluetooth v4.0, IR LED, USB 2.0, and MHL 3.0.
