

OPENING DOORS TO OPEN SOURCE

Having Unotech Software as your preferred choice for Open Source software conceptualization, development and deployment will lead you to success.

We offer a versatile suite services like Open Source Consulting, Solutions, Enterprise Support Services and Products. Our services also include Outsourced Product Development, Application Engineering and Open Source Training.

Consulting

We understand the challenges a business owner or team of managers face in the various stages of the business life cycle. Software and technology hold potential to relieve professionals of pressures posed by these challenges. The Unotech team's exceptional consulting skills enables us to assess your needs and come up with viable, affordable solutions for your business.

Solutions

Unotech Software is all about Open Source. Our solutions are built around the best aspects of Enterprise level Open Source software and offering your business tailor made solutions based on hours of brainstorming and understanding your needs and challenges.

Open Source Support for Enterprises

Unotech is committed to providing world-class service and support to its customers. Staffed with highly skilled engineers and supported by a strong infrastructure, the Open Source Support team is ready to resolve subscribers' questions and problems quickly and professionally. Backed by mutually agreeable Service Level Agreement, our products and solutions support includes regular checks, troubleshooting, backups, updates, upgrades and patches.

Training

Our passion for Open Source has led us to establish Unotech Academy, a center that imparts software training to the next generation of developers and system administrators. Our courses are geared at 'hands on' training as against traditional theory. The key is problem analysis and solving issues, and our core objective is we imbibe our trainees with these traits. Our suite of courses is organized into OS System Support, Certified Messaging Specialist and Open Source Developer categories.
