Nice editorial

I enjoyed reading the editorial in the July 2010 issue of LFY a lot. It made for very pleasant and profound reading. For me, the only opportunity to keep abreast of what's happening in the open source world is through LFY. I feel elated when I read it. Keep them coming.

ED: It is heartening to read your note. Thanks a lot for your kind words of appreciation. We are committed to our readers and the open source community and will continue to strive hard to serve our readers with the best content.

A suggestion to make contests available, online

I have been reading LINUX For You since the last four years and would like to say that it is a great magazine. However, I would like to ask your team a question. I see that you carry a CodeChef contest every month in the magazine.

Wouldn't it be good if you held these contests, online? The July 2010 edition also carries a quiz related to the Ubisurfer netbook. Don't you think putting such contests online will speed-up the process of receiving feedback or replies to these contests? In fact, I have sent filled out contest forms but have received no response about whether my form was received or not. I hope you will look into this matter soon and provide some solutions.

ED: This is a good idea. We will surely get the contests posted online, w.e.f. this edition. Considering your suggestion, we have already posted the Ubisurfer contest, online.

It is available at: http://74.55.228.139/ubi/UBI_emailer.php

DVD not working

I have purchased the LFY July 2010 edition from BPB Publications, Nehru Place, New Delhi. The DVD of Fedora 13 that was bundled with the magazine is not working. It is not booting and I am not able to mount it either. I observed that there were many scratches on the DVD. Probably that is the reason why it is not working. Could you arrange to send another Fedora 13 DVD?

ED: Two per cent of our disks get corrupted due to problems in transit. As a policy, we ship free replacements, and I am sure your replacement disk has reached you by now.

LFY copies not received

I have taken a subscription for the LFY and EFY magazines till 2011. But this month I have not received both LFY and EFY (July 2010) copies. Last month too, I didn't receive both the magazines. This kind of poor customer service is disappointing.

ED: I regret the inconvenience caused to you on both occasions. We will seriously look into the matter and identify the reason behind this problem. In the meantime, our support team will send you your replacement issues, for free.
