

Open Source Databases Are Now Being Adopted For Business Critical Systems

Steve Shine, EVP, worldwide operations, Ingres Corporation, was in Delhi as part of his three-city tour of India. When we (Rahul Chopra and Dhiraj Khare of LINUX For You team) met with him, he was not only gung-ho about the prospects of open source databases but also very enthusiastic about India and its potential as a market for Ingres. Here are a few excerpts from our discussion.
