

YOU SAID IT

Inspired by Anna University's FOSS course

Prijish K P:

I recently read the interview of C N Krishnan on the MSc in FOSS from Anna University at www.linuxforu.com, which was also published in the April 2012 issue of LFY. I am now planning to do my Master's degree in FOSS at Anna University, Chennai. I would like to know more about the scope and benefits of FOSS. Could you please advise me about it?

LINUX For You: We are pleased to know that you wish to pursue an MSc degree in FOSS. Our best wishes! Here's a link to an article 'FOSS in Academic Institutions' that highlights the scope of FOSS-based solutions in academia: <http://bit.ly/H3Dmh9>. There's also great scope for a FOSS related career as a software developer, systems admin, etc. You could even set up your own business and provide FOSS-based solutions to clients and customers. Check out case studies of how companies are reaping the benefits after successful FOSS implementations at <http://bit.ly/lkT1bj>. We hope you find this useful.

A request to include the CD of the Zorin OS

Sachin Kulkarni:

I have a request. Please include the Zorin OS CD in the next issue of the magazine.

LINUX For You: Thanks for the suggestion, Sachin! We'll review it against other options, and surely include it in a forthcoming edition of the LFY DVD.

Debapriya Biswas:

It would be great if LFY could give us posters, stickers, and CD/DVD labels for the main distro being featured in an issue. Would add to the 'feel good' factor of the mag!

LINUX For You: Thanks for the suggestion Debapriya! We shall certainly try and implement this in our forthcoming editions.
