Figure 3: Docker Model Runner on <http://localhost:8501>

This will build an image and run a container on port 8501. We can access it on localhost as seen in Figure 3.

Advantages of Docker Model Runner

Run everything locally: We don't need to pull anything from web live; this reduces latency issues and enables security compliance.

Direct access to hardware GPU: As Docker Model Runner uses llama.cpp, the dependency on virtualised environments is reduced.

Apart from Docker Model Runner, Docker has recently launched Docker Ask Gordon and the Docker MCP toolkit as well. For more updates, do visit docker.com. END!
