

YOU SAID IT

The Ubuntu DVD: A fine experience!

I have been an avid reader of your magazine since quite a few days and I love it. I have a few thoughts I'd like to share with your team. What I observed is that most of the articles are meant for those with an advanced understanding of open source and very few are meant for beginners. So, it would be great if you could include more articles for newbies too. That apart, I would like to thank you for the Ubuntu DVD that you have bundled with your November 2013 issue. I have installed Ubuntu 13.10 on my laptop, replacing Windows 7, and I have to say that it is running very well, indeed. Windows relies on third party software whereas Ubuntu works independently as it is based on open source. Besides, security and reliability are amazing in Ubuntu. It's been a really fine experience and it's all because of OSFY. I take this opportunity to thank the entire editorial team.

ED: We are indeed overwhelmed to receive such great feedback from you. We appreciate the fact that you made time in your hectic schedule to write to us. We are happy to know that the Ubuntu DVD we bundled with the November issue of OSFY helped you make the switch from Windows to Ubuntu. We have also taken note of your suggestion of having more content for beginners. Please feel free to continue giving us feedback and suggestions, as this will help us to enhance the contents of our magazine.

OSFY in Bengaluru

I am a regular reader of OSFY. I have recently shifted to Bengaluru and even after a frantic search, I have not been able to find OSFY on the stands. Can you please let me know where I can get the magazine in Bengaluru. Thanks a lot.

ED: We are indeed pleased to know that you are a regular reader of our magazine. You can log on to <http://www.ezine.elymag.com/listwholeseller.asp?country=Karnataka&city=Bangalore> and you will find the various resellers of OSFY in Bengaluru. Hope this helps. Please feel free to get in touch in case you need anything else from us.

A wish list for distros

How about PureDyne or ArtistX for the February edition's distro? They look very cool! I think we've had enough of the Fedoras or Ubuntu of this world. Though I have nothing against them, they are very 'corporate'.

ED: Thanks a lot for reaching out to us with your suggestions, which we have taken note of. We might not be able to bundle the requested distros in the February edition, but yes, we will definitely consider them for our subsequent editions. END

Accommodate more distros

Manish Bhavsar: I have been a regular reader of Open Source For You magazine since the last five years and this is one of the best technical magazines I have ever seen. The content is always superb and the companion DVD useful. Here I have one observation to make. The DVDs always carry only Linux distros. Although these distros are very useful, other open source software can be accommodated to make the DVD more useful.

Open Source For You: Thanks a lot for the compliment and that's a nice suggestion, Manish! You will definitely see this happening in future editions of OSFY.
