

“We are probably a very good fit to address the large Big Data challenges”

NoSQL is the current buzzword for both Indian and global companies. And that is where MongoDB senses the opportunities. The company has recently ventured into India with some great plans in place. Diksha P Gupta from Open Source For You spoke to Kamal Brar, vice president, Asia Pacific (APAC) region, MongoDB, about how NoSQL databases will change the rules of the game and MongoDB's role in the process. Excerpts:
