Observation

Now open a Web browser and access the URL <http://192.168.10.30>. It displays the Web page from Web Server1—ApacheWebServer1.linuxrocks.org

Refresh the page, and it will display the Web page from Web Server2—ApacheWebServer2.linuxrocks.org

Keep refreshing the Web page; it will flip from Web Server1 to Web Server2, back and forth. We have now configured a system where the load on the Web server is being balanced between two physical servers. END
