

Open Source Means Better, Faster, Cheaper Software Development – If It's Managed Properly!

With an Intellectual Property (IP) Audit, your organisation can quickly identify and validate thousands of open source components within your code base to:

- Detect compliance issues before your product reaches the market to address legal, technical and business concerns
- Satisfy customer and partner requirements for a verified list of included open source to prevent unpleasant “surprises” in the future
- Streamline the merger and acquisition process by providing full transparency into your code base

Nearly 1,000 companies worldwide use Black Duck Software to assess their IP while automating and managing their selection, use and governance of open source.
