

Boost your music experience with TAG's multimedia speakers

If you wish to enjoy an enhanced quality of sound while watching movies or listening to music, TAG's DP-50 multimedia mini speakers can be a good option. Technology and Gadgets, one of the leading distributors in the accessories and PC peripherals space, with its own brand 'TAG', has launched the TAG DP-50 multimedia mini speakers. The speakers are designed to deliver clear sound and rich bass effects, leading to high quality audio output for listeners.

The new TAG DP-50 mini speakers are aesthetically designed to deliver an enhanced quality of sound while listening to music, watching videos or movies and playing games. The mini speakers have a configuration of 5.08 cm (2 inch) with a frequency range of 30 Hz - 20 KHz. These mini speakers go well with any laptop or desktop. Vikas Gupta, CEO and founder of Technology and Gadgets (TAG), shares, "The mini speakers are designed for those who wish to enhance their music experience at a decent price. We hope to cash in on the market by bringing out more such products in the near future."
