

You can now use BBM on Android!

Yes, you read that right. BlackBerry is now ready to share its very popular service, BlackBerry Messenger, with the Android and iOS platforms. The company shared its plans to make its mobile social network, BBM, available to iOS and Android users this summer, with support planned for iOS6, and Android 4.0 or higher. Of course, the availability will be subject to approval by the Apple App Store and Google Play.

For those who have been living in caves, BBM is the instant mobile messaging service that is considered fast, reliable and engaging. After the BBM service becomes available for Android and iOS, it will be able to broaden users' connections to include friends, family and colleagues on other mobile platforms.

In the planned initial release, iOS and Android users would be able to experience the immediacy of BBM chat, including multi-person chat, as well as the ability to share photos and voice notes, and engage in BBM Groups, which allows BBM customers to create groups of up to 30 people.

India gets world's largest offshore IT training campus

India's capital, Delhi, has been selected as the location for the world's largest offshore IT training campus. Set up by offshore training firm, Koenig Solutions, this campus is being claimed as the world's largest offshore IT training facility.

The campus is spread over an area of 1672 sq m (18,000 sq ft) and includes 70 classrooms, 30 testing stations and offers end-to-end solutions that include accommodation, examination facilities, meals, daily transport, etc. of all which form part of the course fee.

The company currently has five centres in the country -- at Goa, Shimla, Dehradun, Delhi and Bengaluru. "There are plans in place to expand this network further to cover more such tourist centres," Koenig Solutions CEO and founder Rohit Aggarwal said in a PTI report.

The company is looking to set up facilities in Chennai and Pune as well, Aggarwal added. "IT training and certification today is a $ 20 billion industry worldwide and the education tourism market in India alone could become $ 1 billion by 2020. Koenig's education tourism business model is unique and aims to tap this growing market," he said.
