Dual-band whole-home mesh Wi-Fi system from D-Link

D-Link, one of the global leaders in connecting devices, businesses and cities, has introduced a pack of two whole-home mesh Wi-Fi systems, the COVR-C1202.

With coverage of up to 325sqm (3,500 square feet), the system is a seamless Wi-Fi solution to efficiently meet the connectivity needs of any smart home. It features two high-performance points that cover every square metre of a home with high speed AC1200 dual-band Wi-Fi along with two on-board Gigabit Ethernet ports (per unit) for wired connectivity.

Apart from offering stable, consistent and seamless connectivity, the device features multiple input/multiple output (MU-MIMO) Wi-Fi, and transmits multiple separate data streams to each wireless device simultaneously to enhance speed and efficiency.

Each COVR point is equipped with dual-band radios and intelligent band steering to automatically place the device on the optimal wireless band, depending on the network conditions.

Additionally, the system comes with 2x3 internal antennas for optimal range and connectivity, and a home friendly design with interchangeable colour plates.

The D-Link COVR-C1202 is available via online and retail stores.
