Lenovo Tab P10

The Lenovo Tab P10 is a 25.6cm Android tablet that offers mid-grade hardware, a high-end design, and lots of premium features. The tablet features a 25.65cm touchscreen for your daily needs, and runs the Android v8.0 (Oreo) operating system to quickly open apps and games. It looks fantastic due to a striking metal-frame and dual-glass design. Considering its price, the build quality is excellent, and the design looks very nice.

The Lenovo Tab P10 has many good premium features at an affordable price. In fact, the speakers, the fingerprint scanner, and the design are quite high-end. Other aspects like the display and performance are good too.

Samsung Galaxy Tab A 10.5

Samsung Galaxy Tab A 10.5 is a mid-level tablet with a 26.6cm full HD display, a Snapdragon 450 octa-core processor and Android 8.1 Oreo OS. In addition, it has some premium features like four speakers and can be unlocked using facial recognition.

The Galaxy Tab A 10.5 is a big tablet, and has a large bezel around the display. Thanks to a soft-touch rubber back, the tablet offers excellent grip and doesn't make you fear for its safety.

The Tab A 10.5 has software navigation keys instead of Samsung's traditional physical home button, and capacitive back and recent apps keys. The tablet is something of an oddball when it comes to performance — good at games like Modern Combat 5 and PUBG at the highest graphical settings.

Technical specifications
