

“The cloud is a great leveller when building new applications”

With all the disruption under way, it has probably never been more challenging to be a business leader. Today, leaders — and software developers — are measured on their ability to innovate, reduce costs and manage risks. To understand how this disruption is happening in the cloud and database industry, Ankita K.S. from the EFY Group had a chat with Ravi Pinto, director – product management, Oracle Cloud Platform, at the Oracle Code 2019 event held at Bengaluru. Excerpts follow...
